In response to applicant's amendment dated October 14, 2004. The following action is taken:

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ko et al (6813230).

The reference in fig 6 shows the use of an optical disk having a plurality of positional information units and sync marks (as shown by odd and even tracks with sync marks). Each of the sectors on the disk having first wobble pattern having a first displacement shape that raises relatively steeply and falls gently and a second wobble pattern that raises gently and falls steeply as shown by the even wobbling track in fig 6 having the claimed limitation.

With respect to the limitation of claim 6 see fig 7A having a one bit address information.

With respect to the limitations of claims 7 and 8 see figs 10 and 11.

Claims 1-4 are allowed.

The claims are allowed for the same reasons set forth in the parent application.
